Man arrested for vicious campaign of online torment

Reason unknown. T.O. woman called cops after someone threatened to kill friend's unborn baby

JESSICA SMITH CROSS
jessica.smithcross@metronews.ca

A Stoney Creek man has been arrested for allegedly stalking a Toronto woman online.

He's accused of sending messages threatening to rape her, tormenting her about her brother's suicide and threatening to kill her friend's unborn child.

Last spring, an anonymous person began sending Vanessa Bruno mean and petty messages. They escalated over a few months to rape threats.

One night, the stalker sent her a message through About.me from a profile made to look like her brother, who had recently killed himself. At first she thought it was a suicide note from him that had somehow been delayed, but it was not.

"It said: 'Maybe if you weren't such a bitch your brother wouldn't have killed himself,'" Bruno recalled in an interview with Metro.

At one point, one of Bruno's friends received a Facebook message saying: "When I'm done with Vanessa I'm going to slit your baby's throat."

That's when she called police.

In December, Michel Sopinka was arrested, charged with criminal harassment, threatening death and threatening bodily harm. He is expected to appear in court Friday to enter a plea.

Vanessa Bruno CONTRIBUTED

Bruno will be there — in part to find out more about the person who stands accused of harassing her for months on end, because she knows next to nothing about him or why he allegedly fixated on her.

"This might be the only chance to see (him)," she said.

Woman stalked online frustrated with police

Victim shaming?
Toronto blogger says police showed more concern for suspect and his family

JESSICA SMITH CROSS
jessica.smithcross@metronews.ca

Metro published a story on Nov. 26, 2013 about the stalking of Toronto woman Vanessa Bruno and her frustration with the slow pace of the investigation. It was after months of waiting and seeing her case passed off to four different detectives that she decided to go to the media.

Even though police have since arrested and charged a suspect, she's frustrated with the way she's been treated.

Bruno alleges the investigating detective repeatedly lectured her about using social media and made her feel responsible for being threatened and stalked.

"I wasn't raped, I wasn't physically harmed, but I feel like they don't take it seriously and that I was victim-shamed," she said.

She stopped blogging for months — despite using her blog as part of her career — and then felt guilty when she decided to post again, which only reignited the stalking.

She alleges that after the suspect was arrested the detective seemed more concerned about how he and his family would feel if his name was made public than about getting justice, and told her not to disclose the suspect's name to Metro.

"He kept talking about what a nice family he has. What about my family?" she said.

Quoted

"Why am I going to stop living my life because this guy is committing crimes?" Vanessa Bruno

"The only justice I feel I have is letting the world know who's been arrested for this."

Det. Const. Scott MacNeish told Metro he would not release the name of the person charged.

"After a discussion with my supervisor's (sic) I don't believe it's in the best interest with this case to release the name of the accused at this time. You mentioned to me earlier that his name would be public information, I agree, but we will not be the ones to provide it publicly," he wrote in an email.

However, Bruno decided to release Michael Sopinka's name, and Metro confirmed the charges against him with court records.

Proposed taxi reforms draw hundreds

City hall. Critics fear pricier fares and shortage of cabs

Hundreds of people packed city hall council chambers Thursday to air their views on a proposed overhaul of Toronto's taxi industry.

"This is a number we've never seen before," licensing and standards committee chair Cesar Palacio said.

The committee voted to reduce the speaking time from five minutes to three to accommodate the 577 people registered as deputants, who represent a cross-section of opinions about Toronto's Taxicab Industry Review final report.

The report contains 40 recommendations. While city staff said the proposals are designed to make taxi service in Toronto more accessible, affordable and safe, critics in the council chamber warned the changes will lead to higher fares and a shortage of taxis.

The proposals call for the expansion of wheelchair-accessible cabs and a new licensing structure to replace the existing three-tier system with the Toronto Taxicab Licence (TTL). "The TTL is the death of the taxi industry," said Sam Moini.

Some argued the taxi industry is doing a good job and changes aren't needed. Members of one group, called the iTaxiWorkers Association of Ontario, attended to tell the committee they supported a staff proposal to transfer taxi ownership to drivers only.

Costly benefit. TTC contemplating switch to time-based transfers

The TTC is considering changing to time-based transfers as part of the broad-scale rollout of Presto fare cards.

The TTC is considering a switch from its long-standing single-continuous-trip transfer system to the kind of time-based transfers used in most other transit systems.

But the move that would likely be welcomed by riders, would be costly — up to $20 million a year. The extra cost comes because many riders would get off the vehicle, do an errand and get back on using the time-based transfer, avoiding paying a second fare.

"We agree this is a customer benefit, that it is something customers have asked for and we would like to provide. But like many things it comes down to cost. There is a revenue loss to a time-based transfer. Providing that revenue can be made up elsewhere, it's something of course we would embark on," said TTC spokesman Brad Ross.

Changing the transfer system makes sense as part of the broad roll-out of the Presto fare card on the TTC that's supposed to start later this year, according to a report before the TTC board on Tuesday.

The longer the time-based transfer period, the more costly it would be, says the report. A two-hour transfer would cost $20 million a year, money the cash-crunched system simply doesn't have. An unrestricted 90-minute transfer would cost $12 million annually.

The loss would have to be made up by an additional subsidy from the province or city, said Ross. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Rider breakdown

More than half of TTC riders are pass holders who don't need transfers. But about 10 per cent of TTC trips involve the use of the paper transfers that are supposed to be obtained at the point where the rider pays their fare.

Caledon

Public could foot bill for warehouse cancellation

Taxpayers could end up paying cancellation costs for a massive warehouse in Caledon, not long after a scrapped Mississauga gas-fired power project left the province on the hook for $275 million.

Canadian Tire is building the warehouse to house one of the largest distribution facilities in Canada.

The project was fast-tracked in July with a rarely used procedural move — a minister's zoning order — by Municipal Affairs Minister Linda Jeffrey over the protests of local residents.

The zoning order allowed Canadian Tire to get a building permit and begin construction.

Then suddenly last week, Jeffrey sent the company's application to the Ontario Municipal Board, an appeal body that could halt the project and even kill it.

The application raises the possibility of legal action that could leave taxpayers responsible for Canadian Tire's costs.

Jeffrey made the OMB decision after Caledon resident Kim Seipt filed an application with the ministry to have the minister's order revoked.

Canadian Tire, however, isn't planning to stop its construction. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Australian woman a harassment victim?

'It was terrifying'. Woman says she was threatened online by a man who claimed he had 'dirt' on her that he'd leak to 'bad guys'

JESSICA SMITH CROSS
jessica.smithcross@metronews.ca

After Metro published a story on Vanessa Bruno on Nov. 26, 2013, an online security expert, Steve Browning, offered his help finding the stalker.

As part of the investigation, the Toronto police traced an IP address used to message Bruno to a man named Michael Sopinka.

Browning and Bruno worked together and uncovered deleted Tumblr posts written by a woman who complained about being threatened on Facebook into sending a photo of her breasts to a man using an account under the name Mike Sopinka.

Believing there might be a connection, Bruno turned the information over to the police.

The woman, who asked her name be withheld, was reached by Metro this week in Australia, where she lives.

"He sent me messages on Facebook asking to see me topless and, initially, I refused," she said. "It was terrifying. He was threatening to leak my information, leak photos of me."

The person using Mike Sopinka's Facebook claimed to have "dirt" on her and threatened he'd leak her information to "bad guys" who would ruin her life if she didn't send a topless photo of herself, that included her face, she said.

"I did take a photo, and I sent it to him, and he pushed for more," she said. "I sent one with my top pulled down. I was that terrified."

Later, she wrote on Tumblr about the blackmail and her post went viral. In response, someone who said he was Mike Sopinka contacted her and said his Facebook account had been hacked and her post was ruining his life.

After learning from Metro that Sopinka was arrested in Canada, the woman has decided to contact the Toronto police.

I need something in exchange though obviously
I think it's sick that you extort photos from young girls in exchange for information. If you really wanted to help me, you'd do it without blackmailing me.
Mike Sopinka
Look, it's just a sexy pic with some cleavage and your pretty face... if you don't wanna send anything, fine... i'll take your information to people who want to do you real harm
Real harm? You mean they'd physically hurt me?
Mike Sopinka
I dunno what they do... i dont wanna know... they get results however they can
What results? If I'm going to do this, at LEAST tell me what danger I'm in if I don't.
That's the least you can do for me.
Mike Sopinka
I told you, i dunno... all they need is a name... the more info, the better... these people even scare me... but they pay and you'll definitely end up sending them the pic or more... so why not just avoid the dangers and just send it to me and i tell you how i found you, and everyone is happy

'Shock value'

Alleged stalker contacted Metro

After Metro published an article about the alleged stalker tormenting Toronto woman Vanessa Bruno, he contacted Metro to tell his side of the story.

The man used the secure email account mszacowski2@hushmail.com to allegedly stalk Bruno online and used the same address to contact Metro.

In the email, he insulted her and blamed his actions on his own mental illness. He claimed that when he threatened rape, it didn't mean he was actually going to rape her, and when he was taunting her about her brother's suicide, it was for "shock value."

"Vanessa is not a nice person. She thinks she is the greatest person to walk this planet, puts others down constantly online and in reality, but fails to be humble and realize her own flaws. I felt compelled to point them out to her. And I did," he wrote.

Simon Fraser University Prof. Stephen Hart, a forensic psychologist who specializes in risk assessment, read the emails and said the alleged stalker likely misreads social cues, has problems with women and has treated other women in the same way.

"He actually feels like he has a relationship with her, although she is in fact a stranger," he said. "He thinks that just by finding information about her online — whatever publicly available stuff he could find — that he knows enough about her to have a relationship with her, pass judgment on her and feel entitled to punish her for what he believes are her mistakes and transgressions."

TTC'S BUDGET REQUEST SET FOR DEBATE NEXT WEEK

ANDY BYFORD
CEO
TORONTO TRANSIT COMMISSION

Next week is an important one for the TTC – both for the success of our Five-Year Corporate Plan to modernize the city's transit system and, ultimately, to provide better service to you, the customer.

On Jan. 29, City Council will consider the 2014 budget, which includes a TTC request for an additional subsidy to enable the TTC to add service to match ever-rising customer ridership. In addition to the extra fuel and workforce (both to operate and maintain the network) that the increased service requires, we are also re-introducing on-street route supervisors to tackle bunching of buses and streetcars to actively manage the service in order to drive up reliability.

We will also be tackling fare evasion this year, and beyond, with more fare inspectors. It is not right that the vast majority of customers and taxpayers effectively subsidize those who seek to avoid paying their way.

In our capital budget request, the TTC has requested funding for a new communications system on buses and streetcars to improve customer information across the network. As well, the TTC still needs more subway cars, streetcars and buses to reduce existing levels of crowding as ridership continues to grow.

None of this is cheap. But, as I stated in a recent speech to the Toronto Region Board of Trade, if we are to modernize the TTC and keep a growing Toronto moving, both the value and cost of public transit needs to be understood.

During the question period at next week's Council meeting, I will defend the TTC's budget requests in the name of improved service for our customers.

Thinking of suicide?

Bieber arrested, charged with DUI

Hard to Beliebe. A bratty teen pop star, alcohol, drugs, a yellow Lamborghini — what could go wrong?

This police booking mug shot shows Canadian pop star Justin Bieber on Thursday. Bieber was arrested for allegedly drag-racing on a Miami Beach street. Police say Bieber has been charged with resisting arrest without violence in addition to drag racing and DUI. MIAMI-DADE COUNTY JAIL/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When he debuted five years ago, Justin Bieber was a mop-haired heartthrob, clean cut and charming. But a series of troubling incidents have put his innocent image at risk, and none more so than his arrest on DUI charges Thursday.

Police say they arrested a bleary-eyed Bieber — smelling of alcohol — after officers saw him drag-racing before dawn on a residential street, his yellow Lamborghini travelling at nearly twice the speed limit.

The 19-year-old singer later admitted smoking marijuana, drinking and taking a prescription medication, police say. Unlike previous dustups, this arrest has him facing potential jail time.

Bieber was charged with DUI, driving with an expired licence and resisting arrest without violence. His Miami-Dade County jail mug shot showed the singer smiling in a bright red inmate jumpsuit, his hair still stylishly coiffed.

Bieber made his initial court appearance via a video link from jail. He remained silent while defence attorney Roy Black negotiated bond. Bieber's bond was set at $2,500.

Black, a high-profile lawyer whose clients have included Rush Limbaugh and William Kennedy Smith, said he thought the case would proceed "hopefully as any other case would" in light of Bieber's celebrity status.

Bieber left jail about an hour after his court appearance, popping through a window of his black SUV in a black hoodie and sunglasses to wave to crowds of reporters and young girls waiting to see him.

So what could happen?

For a first DUI offence, there is no minimum sentence and a maximum of six months, a fine of up to $500, and 50 hours of community service.

Alberta. Supreme Court won't hear appeal of man who hoped to save rabbits

The Supreme Court of Canada won't hear an appeal from a nature lover who tried to save the rabbits of Canmore, Alta., from a deadly cull.

The town decided several years ago to trap and kill its feral rabbits, which it said were devouring local gardens and attracting predators such as coyotes and even cougars.

Daniel Onischuk, an Edmonton photographer, objected and went to court for an injunction, arguing trapping, sterilizing and relocating the rabbits would be a better option.

The Court of Queen's Bench dismissed his suit, saying he had no standing to bring the application since he had no ties or interest in Canmore and the appeal court declined to hear an appeal.

The town began the trap-and-kill program in the fall of 2012.

As usual, the Supreme Court gave no reasons for refusing to hear Onischuk's appeal.

Dine-and-dasher discovered done-in

Authorities are investigating the death of a gastronomic freeloader as a possible murder. Two days after the father of Titus Clarysse found him dead in his apartment, investigators were looking on Thursday for suspects in what a spokesperson called "a case of murder or manslaughter."

Clarysse was famed in and around the town of Ghent for walking into any restaurant of his choosing, ordering anything from steak to lobsters and walking out without paying.

Fatal blaze ravages seniors' home in small Quebec town

Investigators and firefighters look over the rubble after a fire in L'Isle-Verte, Que., Thursday. RYAN REMIORZ/THE CANADIAN PRESS

L'Isle-Verte. Many residents were over 85, and all but a handful were confined to wheelchairs and walkers

Just six months after Canadians were rocked by the Lac-Mégantic tragedy, another Quebec town found itself waiting to learn how many people it had lost after fire ripped through a seniors' residence Thursday.

And just like in Lac-Mégantic, the destruction struck shortly after midnight.

The unsuspecting community this time was L'Isle-Verte, a town of only 1,500 people in Quebec's scenic Lower St. Lawrence.

Provincial police have confirmed that five people are dead and another 30 are missing.

Parts of the Résidence du Havre, which opened in 1997, had sprinklers, while others didn't. The local fire chief said sprinklers did go off, triggering the fire alarm and allowing firefighters to gain access to about one-third of the building.

Thursday's blaze erupted in the old part of the three-storey building, which a Quebec Health Department document from last July states was constructed of wood. The document also says the building had a fire alarm and that each room was equipped with a smoke detector.

Many of the residents were over 85 and all but a handful had limited movement, being confined to wheelchairs and walkers.

Town official Ginette Caron said only five residents in the 52-unit centre were fully mobile.

At least three people were injured, although the extent of their injuries was unclear.

Indian woman says village council ordered gang rape

A 20-year-old Indian woman said she was gang-raped on the orders of a village council because she fell in love with a man from a different ethnic group, police said Thursday.

Twelve suspects and the head of the council have been arrested for the Monday night attack, police said. The woman told police that she lost count of how many men raped her. She was hospitalized Thursday in serious condition.

Television footage showed the woman, her face covered by scarves, being led into a hospital with an IV tube in her arm. TV news reports said the woman is a member of an ethnic tribal group and the man is a Muslim from a neighbouring village. The man visited the woman's village, Subalpur, on Monday to propose marriage, but was caught by other villagers, and the man and woman were tied to a tree while the village council decided their fate, the reports said.

Police official C. Sudhakar said the village council ordered the man and woman to each pay a fine of 25,000 rupees ($400). The man's family was able to pay, but when the woman's family said they were too poor, the council ordered the gang rape, police said.

A rash of high-profile rapes in India over the past year has sparked widespread outrage over chronic sexual violence and government failures to protect women.

The West Bengal case is particularly troubling because it was allegedly ordered by a council made up of village elders. Such councils are not legally binding in India, but they are seen as the will of the local community.

Is your go-to password 123456?

Then it's time to up your game. Research shows most online passwords are too easy

STEVE SMITH
Metro World News

Passwords are a nightmare to remember, but even so, we are incredibly bad at them. Research from password management company SplashData has discovered the majority of people undermine their security with easily guessed codes, and company CEO Morgan Slain highlights these failures.

Stop doing this!

SplashData found 9.8% of users have the passwords 123456 or 12345678.

Are we changing our habits at all?

The main trends are that short numerical passwords are continuing to show up, even though more sites are requiring stronger alphanumeric passwords. Passwords like "adobe123" and "photoshop" showing up from the Adobe security breach last year highlight the risks of basing a password on the app or website you are logging into.

Everything needs a password these days, but how are we to remember them all?

The simplest answer here really is to use a password manager like SplashID Safe. Otherwise, it's difficult or impossible to remember dozens of unique, strong passwords. One way to create more secure passwords that are easy to recall is to start using passphrases, short words with spaces or other characters separating them. It's best to use random words rather than common phrases. For example, "cakes years birthday" or "smiles_light_skip?"

Is caramel colouring safe? FDA to find out

Coke and Diet Coke bottles sit on a store shelf in Miami. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration says there's no reason to believe that the colouring added to sodas is unsafe. But the agency is taking another look just to make sure. The agency's announcement comes in response to a study by Consumer Reports showing 12 brands of soda have varying levels of 4-methylimidazole, an impurity found in some caramel colouring. Letter. Ban fur in Israel as it 'violates Jewish principles,' argues ex-Baywatch babe

Pamela Anderson
GETTY IMAGES

Actress and animal rights activist Pamela Anderson is asking Israel's prime minister to endorse a bill banning the sale of clothes made of animal fur.

Fresh off a honeymoon in Israel, Anderson sent a letter to Benjamin Netanyahu on Wednesday urging him to support the legislation. If passed, it would make Israel the first country in the world to impose a national fur clothing ban.

More than 40 lawmakers have endorsed the bill, promoted by the Israel-based International Anti-Fur Coalition. Netanyahu previously has expressed views sympathetic with the animal rights movement. In her letter, Anderson said the way animals "suffer and die for fur violates Jewish principles." THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HAVE TO BE BUZZED TO BELIEB

THE METRO LIST

Mike Benhaim
metronews.ca

Firmly settled into the new year, with the brisk winter upon us, we watch our resolutions crumbling by the hour. There remains a buzz, no longer of holiday cheer or annoying relatives, but of social media exploding with up-to-the minute news that matters most. Here are some of the items trending highest in this week's Twittersphere.

1 The puppy that lost its way. This week's top hashtags were #JustinBieber and #DUI. People forget that this is just a normal 19-year-old boy, experimenting with drugs, sex and cars. Is it his fault he just happens to have access to the very finest of all three? But he'll be OK, because just like an adorable little puppy, he can poop right on your shoes, and look at you innocently, as if to say, "Wanna rub my belly?"#WeWillAlwaysSupportYouJustin.

2 Dennis Rodman. The surest way for a celebrity (and I use the term loosely here) to trend high is to check into rehab. But this former NBA bad boy was already under fire for his relationship with Kim Jong-un, and compounded it by going nuts in a satellite interview (from North Korea) with CNN anchor Chris Cuomo. Nothing gets folks a-tweetin' like a rant so incoherent, it's incomprehensible to two cultures simultaneously. What's the Korean word for "huh?"

3 Hilton-grooven. Her audacious claim that she was "one of the top 5 DJs in the world" ignited online controversy until Paris Hilton explained that she was merely one of the top five "HIGHEST PAID DJs..." What followed was a global DJ community left in a silent state of melancholy introspection.

4 Really, Rob? Toronto's mayor revived his dwindling buzz with footage of yet another drunken jabberfest earlier this week. Reporters were unable to focus on budget-related questions after seeing him rant in faux-Patois at the Steak Queen restaurant. So much for getting "enough to eat at home."

5 Greatest game ever, dude. The Super Bowl always ranks high in online chatter, but this year features Seattle versus Denver, and takes place in New Jersey, where constituents just re-elected Gov. Chris Christie. So it's hard to gauge whether trending is due to the NFL's huge fan base, or the fact that everyone is stoned. One thing's for sure: Announcers will have to speak very slowly.

6 Tennis, anyone? Eugenie Bouchard became the first Canadian to advance this far in the Australian Open, but apparently that's not as interesting as her crush on Justin Bieber, according to the latest Twitter trend #GenieArmy.

7 In the wrong business. Not on the list just yet, but on the topic of trends, iconic Canadian men's fashion chain Harry Rosen celebrates its 60th anniversary this coming month. I take a moment to reflect back on the memory of all of the contemporary brand-name fashions I was never able to afford, and still can't.

8 Time well spent. This week's highest-ranking online subject went to Oxfam's report that the world's 85 richest people have as much wealth as half of Earth's population. What they don't tell you is that it's because the bottom half spends the majority of their time tweeting and posting selfies on Instagram. The other 85 are shopping at Harry Rosen as we speak.

Hero-glyphics are a Marvel to behold

TV icons star in ancient artwork

An artist has transported superheroes into a world of sacred myths, by drawing them in hieroglyphics. In his series Hero-glyphics, Josh Lane blends our favourite TV and comic-book characters — from Star Trek and Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles to X-Men (not pictured) — with the ancient Egyptian art form. METRO

Q and A

Accidental genius

JOSH LANE
Graphic designer and illustrator, 27, from Kansas City, Mo.

What was the inspiration for the superheroes?

I tend to read very fast, which is usually a curse, but one time I read the word "hieroglyphics" as "hero-glyphics." Immediately I started daydreaming about the possible hero scenarios and combinations.

In a world where the Egyptian gods could fight Marvel superheroes, who would win? Osiris and Anubis, or the X-Men?

The X-Men for sure, because they are a team. I could see the Egyptian gods fighting each other for power, leaving an opportunity for the X-Men to strike.

Deciding where you want to eat can be tough, even before those pesky hunger pangs kick in. So if you want to find a restaurant quickly, and also give the impression you are a gastronomical crackerjack, check out these apps.

Foodspotting:

This app knows that you eat with your eyes first. It lets you view photos of various dishes arranged by best, latest and nearest to you that have been uploaded by other patrons. Once you've found a drool-worthy dish, you can access the restaurant's info.

Open Table:

You can take advantage of your co-ordinates to find a restaurant and reserve a table. There are other auxiliary features such as searching restaurants by name, the interactive map, and you can also access restaurant info via a link to the site.

Vegout:

It lets you find vegetarian/vegan/vegetarian-friendly restaurants based on your location. The only drawback is it doesn't allow you to type in a specific restaurant.

Hammoud M.H., Ph.D. recommends this effective fish peptide blood pressure natural product. So does Dr. Julian Whitaker M.D.

Truthful actual experiences from real people: ■ I was on 3 blood pressure drugs that did not work well. After starting Bell #26 my readings are generally well below 120/80. Doria A. Anderson, 76, Sooke, BC ■ My blood pressure was 157/90 and I had side effects from prescription drugs. I bought a monitor. After 6 months on Bell #26 I was down to 120/80. Toni L. McCulstion, 52, Elizabethtown, PA ■ Blood pressure went from 170/110 down to 110/70. Was on three medications that didn't help. Within a month on Bell#26 my BP dropped to 110/70. I thought I didn't need it anymore and the BP went up to 170/110 again. I will now stay on Bell. I am surprised about its effectiveness without side effects. Bell exceeds my expectations. Patrick McManus, 52, Edmonton, AB ■ At work my driver's medical test was too high at 170/100. After taking Bell #26 for a few days I went down to 128/84 which allowed me to pass my work medical. Kris Geier, 48, Windsor, ON.

Calming Stress

NPN 80041655 Helps to promote healthy mood balance, relaxation, use as a sleep aid and mental stress.

Truthful experience by people: ■ I am calm now in stressful situations! In the past 10 years I had a very short fuse, because my job is quite unpredictable. After I started Bell Calming Chronic Stress #66 the difference was amazing. My reactions to stressful situations are totally changed. I also have more energy, too. I don't yell at others. I have more patience and I am much happier as well. Thank you. Mary-Anne Thompson, 61, Lasalle, ON ■ I suffered greatly from anxiety. Standard treatments did not make me feel good. So my mother bought Bell Calming Chronic Stress #66 and it has been helping me a lot. I am on my 3rd bottle. Remington Fletcher, 19, Ponty Pool, ON ■ I have a very high stress career in the film industry. There was no time for relaxation or meditation as you are on demand for 12-15 hours a day with no breaks. Since using Bell #66I am able to focus on the tasks at hand with more patience. Thank you for your help! Christina Ollson, 36, Burnaby, BC ■ It's exactly one year since we began using Bell Calming Chronix Stress #66 for our two sons. Our local health food store recommended it. Both of our sons suffer from anxiety disorders. Our older son (14) was going through puberty and had become quite unmanageable, because he is much larger than I am. We are delighted with the immediate results. Our older son became his former sweet self and our younger son's (12) anxiety is dramatically reduced. Thank you so much. Donna Van Veen, 48, Grand Prairie, AB

NPN 80042656 Helps to enhance memory and cognitive function in adults.

Actual results by people: ■ Imagine how frustrating it is for someone with a Ph.D. who has difficulties to concentrate and remembering something that happened yesterday. Now that I use your Super IQ Brain Function #36 I seem to be back to normal. I recommend it to anyone experiencing memory loss of any kind. Glenn A. Guidry Ph.D., 55, Nashville, TN ■ As a student I was surprised with final exams results of 95%! I started taking Bell IQ Function #36 half a year ago when I had trouble remembering things in a course. Things changed drastically when I started to take these capsules. I could concentrate and excel better than ever before. Exams results were 95% correct! Theresa Williamson, 31, Toronto, ON ■ I bought the Super IQ Brain Function for my grandma, who has dementia. Her thoughts were wandering in and out. Since she is taking #36 she recognizes us all, sings again and remembers all the lyrics. Instead of sleeping pills she is drinking the Bell Sleep & Relax Tea #21a and she is not groggy anymore in the morning. She is a delightful person again. We are all grateful. Wendy Simpson, 52, Calgary, AB

#60

Guaranteed better than all others they used say dozens of delighted users with full names and towns on the Bell website. Works by cleansing blood inside rather than attacking skin from the outside and leaving the actual cause untreated. Here are a few examples:

ACNE
Eczema & Psoriasis

NPN 80044199. Alternative for skin conditions such as Eczema, Psoriasis.

Actual Results. ■ After 1 week my severe acne became quite mild and after 2 weeks it had completely vanished. I suffered for 5 stressful years of having acne and extremely dry, irritated skin. Bell #60 "saved my life" My skin is now beautiful and you would never know I suffered from acne and other skin problems for years. Zach Lustgarten, 18, Oshawa, ON ■ Spent 30 minutes every day popping and picking my face. Since puberty I had acne and irritating itching. After starting Bell #60 my acne cleared up, itching stopped, no more breakouts. Make-up looks nice on my face again. Thanks for an amazing natural product that really works. Adwoa Mainoo, 38, Etobicoke, ON

RED NOSE/CHEEKS ROSACEA gone in less than a week. Was fighting it for 30 years with topical creams and prescriptions without getting satisfaction. I live a healthy life, don't smoke and don't drink. People thought a reddish face comes from drinking. This is a myth. Will take it for the rest of my life when needed. Donald E. Gillespie, 56, Innisfil, ON ■ My husbands suffered for 28 years with Rosacea. It has been a nightmare for him physically and emotionally. It was frustrating seeing so many doctors and specialists and spending lots of money without success. Bell #60 worked within a short time. Itching stopped quickly. We've finally found our savior product. Lynn Libman, 54, Coeur d'Arlene, ID

PSORIASIS ■ I had severe psoriasis over 95% of my body. Last 5 years I have stunned every doctor and dermatologist. I spent tons of money on remedies. After I got Bell #60, I've never seen anything work as fast in my life. Within 2 days I saw my skin clearing up. I'm speechless. It was inexpensive compared with what I spent before. Jessica Shantz, 25, Dawson Creek, BC ■ My husband had psoriasis so bad he scratched until it was bleeding. We went for 5 years to doctors and dermatologists who prescribed special soaps and expensive creams that were of no help. Bell #60 brought complete relief before the bottle was finished. Thanks so much for all the Bell products. We use many of them now. Ruthann Bennett, 64, Pittsburgh, PA

ECZEMA For 6 years my family doctor and dermatologist tried many medications and creams. After taking Bell #60 for just a few days my eczema itching stopped and my face started to clear up. After suffering so long I am amazed with the results. Andy Yuen, 58, Vancouver, BC ■ I am a minister and had eczema on my right hand for some 30 years. This has been an embarrassing problem as I do a lot of handshaking. Expensive prescriptions did very little. My granddaughter finally helped by recommending Bell #60 and it worked within days. I take it now when needed. I hope others will be helped just as well. Rev. Larry K. Raynes, 70, Taylors, SC

Bladder & Yeast Infection

#31

True success stories by women: ■ Bladder & Yeast Infection #31 works within a day or two! My experience in the last 4 years is that whenever I feel symptoms of an infections I take two capsules for a day or two and the infection is gone. I love this product. Pat Pearce, 53, Brantford, ON ■ 30 years of bladder infections gone! For 30 years my doctor prescribed antibiotics. As soon as the medication finished the next bladder infection came back. After 2 days taking Bell # 31 I noticed a complete relief of my infection I had all these 30 years. God bless you all for helping all of us women. Emell Whitaker, 69, Bronx, NY ■ Bladder infections kept on coming back. Since starting Bell Bladder & Yeast Infection #31 my infection was gone and I now take it from time to time for prevention and I have no more bladder or yeast infections. I told family and friends how good Bell products are. Thank you! Maria Racz, 60, Vancouver, BC ■ Went to the bathroom 10 times in an hour and more frequently at night!. In the last 2 years I went a number of times to the doctor and got different antibiotics and none of them worked. My urination would burn enormously. I bought your Bell Bladder & Yeast Infection #31. I can now work all day or sleep all night without getting up to go to the bathroom. I am not afraid anymore to drink water when I am thirsty. Praise the Lord! Thank you! Harriett Priester, 60, North Charleston, SC

Synopsis

I, Frankenstein, Aaron Eckhart's martial arts update of the famous Mary Shelley story, wasn't screened for the press in time to meet our deadline, so after a long conversation with our editor the Reel Guys have decided to do a column on Eckhart's oeuvre. At least that's how we see it. Our boss has a different idea. "As your editor I demand a thorough dissection of Eckhart's abs," she wrote before adding: "More than pretty, Eckhart is." What follows is our humble attempt to mix cinematic business with our editor's pleasure.

Aaron Eckhart in a scene from I, Frankenstein. Metro's movies editor digs Eckhart's physique, but the Reel Guys say there's more to him than abs and cleft. CONTRIBUTED

Reel Guys

RICHARD CROUSE AND MARK BRESLIN

Why we love Aaron Eckhart

A-lister. He's got the acting chops ... and that cleft. So why isn't he a household name?

Richard: Mark, Aaron Eckhart isn't exactly a household name, but he has appeared in some very big movies. He's the only live-action actor in the Batman films to play both Harvey Dent and his villainous alter-ego Two-Face. The Dark Knight is by far and away his biggest hit, followed by his star-making turn in Erin Brockovich. But despite those box office busters we don't talk about the handsome actor in the same breath as A-listers like Cruise, DiCaprio or Smith. He has the above-mentioned abs and is versatile enough to star in everything from video game action movies like Battle: Los Angeles to hardcore dramas like Rabbit Hole and yet doesn't get the same recognition as many of his peers. What's your take on him?

Mark: You mean the cleft that walked like a man? I could probably fit my grad thesis in there! Eckhart exploded onto my radar with two films he did in the late '90s, both by the cynical playwright Neil LaBute: In the Company of Men, and Your Friends & Neighbors. In both films he plays despicable, almost un-watchably misogynistic men. The key word here is almost. As rotten as he behaves in these movies, there's an inchoate grace under the surface that redeems the characters, and it's a testimony to his acting skills that he can keep us watching. And that cleft.

RC: Some like the cleft, some the abs. I like his versatility. In a year span between 2010 and '11 he released three very different movies. In Rabbit Hole, he and Nicole Kidman were a couple trying to deal with the death of their four-year-old son. They are at different stages of their grief, but they share a couple of things: a terrible sense of loss and an inability to know how to deal with it. Terrific stuff. Next was the alien invader movie Battle: Los Angeles followed by The Rum Diaries where he played a slick PR person. Three different movies and three very different performances. Maybe we have a hard time defining him because he constantly does wild career flip-flops.

MB: Or because there's an opacity to him that allows him to play so many compromised characters, allowing us to project our feelings onto him. Look at one of his finest roles, as the tobacco lobbyist in Thank You for Smoking. He's so slick, so shifty, we don't judge him, precisely because we don't really know him. A quality that's great for an actor, but less so for a movie star. I really liked him in Rabbit Hole and Rum Diaries, too, but his mainstream work doesn't register with me as much. Except for his cleft.

RC: He's made a number of movies I wouldn't recommend for the big screen but work well enough as rentals. Two action films, Erased and Suspect Zero, are very VOD friendly and feature many cleft hero shots.

MB: Or two romantic comedies that would have been disastrous without him: No Reservations and Love Happens. He doesn't do nude scenes in them, though, because in close-up you couldn't tell if it were his backside or his cleft.

The Selfish Giant

Director. Clio Barnard

Stars. Conner Chapman, Shaun Thomas, Sean Gilder

Clio Barnard returns to the grim side of Bradford, West Yorkshire to two schoolboys locked in family cycles of addiction, abuse and poverty. They hope to pay drug debts by scavenging metal, working for Kitten, a Fagin-like father figure. Barnard's deeply disturbing look at the tragic effects of generational failure on these boys, one with a soft heart, and the other with a lethal toughness, is hard to watch. The Selfish Giant is a haunting, devastating experience.

Drama

Mourning Has Broken

Directors. Jason and Brett Butler

Stars. Robert Nolan

When a husband awakens to discover his sick wife has passed away in her sleep, he avoids the grim reality by running through an onerous errands list. Robert Nolan carries this film as a husband whose grief manifests in some unsettling interactions, but his efforts are largely undone by poor supporting characters and a manic script. The Butler brothers' black comedy — made for only $1,000 — is beautifully shot, but a predictable narrative and clumsy dialogue make even its most tender scenes ring hollow. MANORI RAVINDRAN

Drama

The Past

Director. Asghar Farhadi

Stars. Bérénice Bejo, Tahar Rahim

Fans of Iranian filmmaker Asghar Farhadi's Oscar-winning A Separation should be equally appeased with The Past, a similar domestic drama that focuses on a family toiling with impending divorce and the matriarch's upcoming marriage to a dry cleaner whose wife lies in a mysterious coma. That plot may sound melodramatic, and at times it surely comes close, but Farhadi masterfully melds complex relationships with a nuanced detail that never lets its escalating turmoil feel fabricated.

STEVE GOW

Drama

Whitewash

Director. Emanuel-Hoss Desmarais

Stars. Thomas Haden Church

The action begins with an event that shapes the remainder of Bruce's (Thomas Haden Church) life. His wild, drunken bulldozer ride through town leaves a man (Marc Labreche) dead. Panicked, Bruce hides the body in a snow bank and hightails it for the deep woods to avoid police and pull his head together. Church is in every scene and delivers an extraordinary, minimalist performance, subtly riding the lines between sanity and insanity, between redemption and survival, leaving the viewer off balance.

RICHARD CROUSE

Documentary

The Final Member

Director. Jonah Bekhor, Zach Math

Stars. Sigurdur Hjartarson, Pall Arason

Pardon the puns but even if phallic-themed documentary The Final Member is short on scope, it makes up for its inadequacy in character. A sincere but idiosyncratic probe into one Icelandic man's crusade to enlist a human donor for his penis museum, there's not much breadth to the todger tale. Instead, the doc entertains by the quirkiness of its subjects declaring their dream of preserving their private parts, even if it means pondering plucking one's peter before its time.

STEVE GOW

Documentary

Linsanity

Director. Evan Jackson Leong

Stars. Jeremy Lin, Daniel Dae Kim

In the flattering film Linsanity, filmmaker Evan Jackson Leong takes viewers on a behind-the-scenes glance at the rise of Jeremy Lin who, back in 2012, made headlines as an out-of-nowhere Asian-American basketball star with the New York Knicks. The chronological close-up is loaded with great archive footage and intimate access (singing karaoke, doing laundry) but a sluggish build-up and a lack of impartial inquiry limits the life story to just another glorifying athlete profile.

Action

Ice Soldiers

Director. Sturla Gunnarsson

Stars. Dominic Purcell, Adam Beach

Fifty years after the Cuban Missile Crisis, three genetically modified Russian super soldiers are found frozen (but alive) far in the Canadian North. These Cold War-era killers are on a mission to launch a terrorist attack on New York City, but the burly scientist who defrosted them is determined to make sure that never happens. It's not the preposterous premise, the half-baked plot developments, or even the clichéd characters that makes this film unbearable to watch, it's all of these elements combined.

REGAN REID

Drama/Biography

Devil's Knot

Director. Atom Egoyan

Stars. Reese Witherspoon, Colin Firth

Atom Egoyan's late out of the gate fictionalization of the 20-year-old true crime nightmare documented in both the critically lauded Paradise Lost movies and the Peter Jackson produced West of Memphis trots out the wrenching saga of the West Memphis Three with middling results. Far too ponderous, the film dulls down one of the most fascinating miscarriages of justice in American history but boasts first rate performances, especially in the performance of Reese Witherspoon as shattered mother Pam Hobbs.

Penn State doc gets blessing

Happy Valley. Film exploring sexual-abuse scandal leaves victims, Sandusky and Paterno family members satisfied

Happy Valley explores the case that consumed State College, Penn. CONTRIBUTED

The filmmaker behind the new documentary about the Penn State sexual-abuse scandal says that both the family of Joe Paterno and the lawyer for the victims expressed satisfaction with the film.

"To have total polar opposite perspectives feel a sense of gratification that the film represents their perspective accurately is really something I am proud of," said documentarian Amir Bar-Lev in an interview at the Sundance Film Festival, where Happy Valley premiered.

Bar-Lev screened the film for Joe Paterno's widow, Sue, his two sons, Scott and Jay, and attorney Tom Kline before it premiered. All appear in the film.

Happy Valley explores the case that engulfed the town of State College, Penn., where Penn State is based and which is also known as Happy Valley.

Now a convicted serial child-molester, Jerry Sandusky, the former Penn State assistant football coach, was then accused of molesting children, and key people, including former head coach Paterno, were said to have turned a blind eye.

Paterno died with a tarnished image and the town was rocked by their fallen saints. Sandusky did not speak for the movie, but his son Matt Sandusky did.

To get Matt Sandusky to agree to participate in the documentary, Bar-Lev assured him the movie wouldn't solely rely on the stories of Sandusky or Paterno, but would focus on the torn Happy Valley community.

"Matt asked me a lot of questions about my approach," said Bar-Lev. "Convincing him was really about sitting down with him and telling him that this film was called Happy Valley, not Sandusky or Paterno. It was from that meeting that he said yes and agreed to an interview with no stipulations."

On Sunday, Matt Sandusky attended the premiere of Happy Valley. "I felt it was important to share my perspective as a survivor in this documentary," Matt Sandusky said in an email statement.

"After seeing the film, I am hopeful that it will help people understand some of what I have gone through."

Matt Sandusky was listed as a defence witness at his father's 2012 trial, but he did not take the stand.

Instead, he disclosed through lawyers that he had also been abused.

†"$1 a Day Until Feb. 1" offer only valid on new rent-to own agreements for new or used merchandise entered into through February 1, 2014, when the offer ends. One dollar for each day through 2/1/14 must be paid in advance. Regular rates apply thereafter; optional fees and taxes are not included. Product availability may vary by store. Free or reduced rent offers will not reduce total rent or purchase-option amounts. You will not own the merchandise until the total amount necessary to acquire ownership is paid in full or you exercise your early purchase option. Ownership is optional. Offer good while supplies last and cannot be combined with any other promotion. See Store Manager for complete details. To restart an agreement on a returned product, Rent-A-Centre will retain your payment records for two years. Thereafter, simply bring in your last payment receipt for reinstatement. Delivery and set-up are included and RAC services and maintains the merchandise while on rent. Set-up does not include connection of gas appliances. Trademarks, registered trademarks and/or service marks, indicated or otherwise, are the properties of their respective owners.

Classics get reeled into the digital era

Planet of the Apes CONTRIBUTED

Great Digital Film Festival. Check out your favourite films in a fine new format

CHRIS ALEXANDER
scene@metronews.ca

With celluloid withering as the cinema-screening media of choice, the digital revolution is not only here to stay, it is — dare we say — superior to its sprocket-dependent predecessor. Purists be damned, with digital projection you don't get colour fades, melted frames, strip breaks or foreign hairs dancing in the corners of the screen.

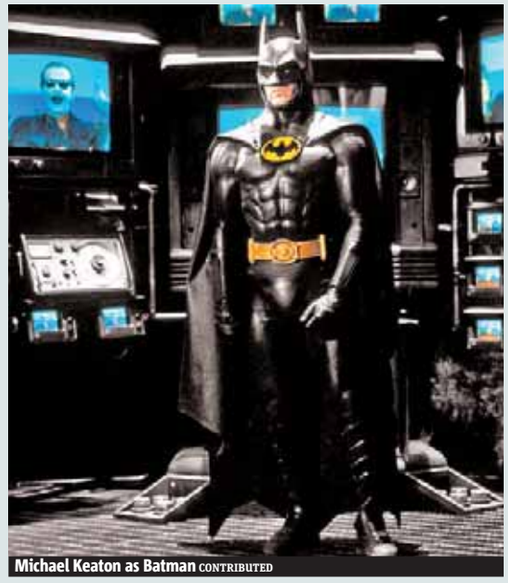
If you want to watch your favourite movies and experience them in a state of rebirth, digital is quite simply the way to go.

The iconic exhibitors at Cineplex have embraced this change, hence the latest installment in their annual Great Digital Film Festival, returning January 31st to February 6th to select Cineplex screens across Canada.

Over 20 celebrated classics of cinema, from superhero gems to cult oddities to action blowouts are unspooling (so to speak) this round and while all are solid draws, Metro has selected a handful of pictures that are essential HD viewing experiences.

Planet of the Apes (1968)
It doesn't get much better than this retro-future shock masterpiece, in which Charlton Heston plays an astronaut jettisoned back to the primal future where simians hold court and humans are livestock and worse. A brilliant nightmare that spawned an entire subculture is exhibited here in a gorgeous, crisp transfer.

Batman (1989)



Michael Keaton as Batman CONTRIBUTED

Tim Burton's original venture into Dark Knight territory has aged beautifully — Prince music notwithstanding — and balances camp, noir and psychodrama with aplomb. Stylish and eccentric, with rich blacks, blues and browns that are deftly drawn out in digital.

Brazil (1985)
Terry Gilliam's surrealist dystopian mind-bender has no peer, with kinetic visuals, wild-eyed performances (including a hilarious turn by Robert De Niro) and social commentary smashed into one mad, mad movie. A must-see.

Logan's Run (1976)
Join Michael York and Jenny Agutter as lovers on the run in a beautiful, abstract and distinctly '70s-centric future where the government allows each citizen 30 years of life before they are ritualistically executed. The film is a landscape of blown out whites and becomes an all-consuming environment on the big screen.

Good Lorde! Taylor really is BFFs with just about everyone

MELINDA TAUB
Metro World News

Is there anyone Taylor Swift isn't BFFs with? She hangs out with everyone from sitcom stars like Sarah Hyland from Modern Family and to indie darlings like Lena Dunham to fellow pop stars like Selena Gomez. And now, apparently, she's added Lorde to her collection.

In a Rolling Stone profile, Lorde says she often texts Taylor for advice, even about something as minor as which knickknack to buy for her home. "Taylor's supergood at this stuff," the Royals singer says. "She's decorated her own houses for ages."

The two young stars weren't always so lovey-dovey — Lorde once told a reporter that she thought Swift was a bad influence. "Taylor Swift is so flawless, and so unattainable, and I don't think it's breeding anything good in young girls (who might think) 'I'm never going to be like Taylor Swift, why can't I be as pretty as Lorde?' That's bulls.," she said.

So how did the two end up BFFs? Because Taylor's a class act, pretty much, and sent Lorde a bouquet of roses when Royals hit No. 1. "I was floored," Lorde admits. Is there anyone Taylor can't win over? I really think she is laying the groundwork for a major showbiz power grab, backed by her cadre of female starlets of every stripe. And I could not love it more.

Lady Gaga ALL PHOTOS: GETTY IMAGES

Big money lawsuits and disputes aplenty, just another day being Gaga

Lady Gaga is trying to keep some things secret, particularly a settlement with a former producer, which she's vying to have sealed, according to Radar Online. Producer and ex-boyfriend Rob Fusari filed a $30.5 million lawsuit against Gaga in 2010, claiming he helped transform Stefani Germanotta into the pop star she is today. The suit was settled out of court, with the details of the settlement sealed at the time, but now Fusari is being sued by another producer, Wendy Starland, who claims she also helped discover Gaga, and the discovery phase of that suit could unseal the documents from the first suit. "In 2010, Germanotta entered into a confidential settlement agreement with Fusari and Rob Fusari Productions, resolving certain disputes, unrelated to the instant action, that had arisen between them," Gaga's lawyer writes in the filing. "These documents include sensitive financial information that could inflict significant professional harm upon Germanotta if disclosed."

Mariah and hubby want to be Roc and Roe stars

Mariah Carey and Nick Cannon are working on a children's book. Scholastic announced Thursday that it has acquired the couple's Roc and Roe's Twelve Days of Christmas, a picture story scheduled for release this fall. Illustrated by A.G. Ford, the book is a holiday tale featuring twins Moroccan and Monroe, to whom Carey gave birth in 2011. Scholastic is billing the book as an "adorable" take on a famous Christmas carol. Toast Burns and blends

LIQUID ASSETS
Peter Rockwell
@therealwineguy
liquidassets@eastlink.ca

Though not on par with Robert Burns, Anchorman Ron Burgundy's quote, "I love scotch, scotchy, scotch, scotch" is poetry to whisky lovers. Not like scotch needs celebrity endorsement. It's been rocking the spirit world for centuries with a cult of collectors who talk up their inventory numbers with the same relish that a tweeter does followers. And it continues to gain new members.

While single malts (made at a single distillery, in a pot still, from only malted barley) get attention because of big flavours, a scotch producer confessed to me that he felt "the art was really in the blend." Created from a combo of grain and malted whiskies, blends offer a rounded alternative to the aggressiveness of single malts.

Those looking for a tipple to toast Robbie Burns' 255th birthday this weekend might consider The Famous Grouse (750 ml, $28.05 - $29.99), the most popular blended whisky in Scotland. Smooth and lightly malted, its blend includes heavy weight single malts, The Macallan and Highland Park.

Snack collision: Buffalo wings and nachos

Party food. These two classics team up for big and bold flavour

1. Heat the oven to 400 F. Line a rimmed baking sheet with foil and coat with cooking spray.

2. To make the buffalo sauce, in a medium saucepan over medium heat, combine the RedHot sauce, barbecue sauce and butter. Heat, stirring, until the butter is melted and thoroughly blended. Set aside.

3. Remove all of the meat from the chicken, cut into bite-sized pieces and place in a large bowl. Pour the buffalo sauce over the chicken, then toss well to coat. Set aside.

4. Spread the tortilla chips in an even layer over the prepared baking sheet. Sprinkle the cheddar cheese evenly over the chips. Using tongs or a fork, spread the chicken evenly over the cheese and chips.

5. In a small bowl, toss together the Mexican-style cheese and the blue cheese, then sprinkle evenly over the chicken. Top with the olives and scallions. Bake for 10 to 15 minutes, or until the cheese is melted and just starting to brown. Serve with salsa and sour cream.

Robbie Burns

Date: Jan. 27-31
Location: Various
Somehow Robbie Burns Day (Jan. 25) has become an entire week for some (we're looking at you) Scottish bagpipe guy. Pubs like The Caledonian (856 College St.) will be featuring everything from Highland Dancers to plates full of haggis, not to mention numerous whisky tastings all week long. So get out and raise a glass to the greatest of Scottish poets and drink it down for Auld Lang Syne.

Tea

Date: Feb. 1, 2
Location: Toronto Reference Library
Tea is so hot right now, and the arrival of the Toronto Tea Festival the first weekend of February is sure to keep it that way. There will be hundreds of samples of teas from around the world, as well as industry experts delivering presentations throughout the weekend. Whether you're a fanatic for your favourite rooibos or you're just learning the fine art of the steep, there'll definitely be something here that's worth soaking up.

Design

Dates: Jan. 20-26
Locations: Various
The Toronto Design Offsite Festival, or TO DO as it's known locally, has already begun. But don't stress, just because you've missed the opening party doesn't mean you don't have time to catch some of the eye-popping installations and innovative exhibitions going on throughout the city. Both local and national designers will be featured in an effort to promote understanding and knowledge of the practice of design.

Beer

Date: Jan. 25
Location: 255 Bremner Blvd.
Don't miss this craft beer festival at Steam Whistle's headquarters at The Roundhouse. Given the appreciation for finely tuned hops in this city, this event is going to require a solid gate crashing effort just to get in. Only on-site tickets will be up for grabs come Saturday, with 18 of Ontario's finest craft breweries in attendance.

Jay Z

Date: Jan. 27
Location: ACC
Whenever Young Hova comes to town it's worth paying attention to, even if he's more like middle-aged Hova now. The man is a walking industry and one of the best rappers to ever step to the mic. His Magna Carter World Tour has been earning rave reviews and if there's a chance Beyoncé happens to step onto the stage, who are we to deny a double billing? Considering this is Jay Z's first solo tour in four years, we're going to go ahead and mark it as a must-see.

Spinning

Date: Jan. 25
Location: 164 Danforth Ave.
Starting at noon on Saturday, The Peer Project, a Toronto-based non-profit youth mentoring agency that spends their time improving the lives of at-risk and newcomer kids through peer mentoring, will be holding its second annual 24 Hour Spin-a-Thon fundraiser. Energia Athletics will play host to relay teams of up to 24 riders as they push themselves to the brink. Sounds like they're living their Notable life (#LYNL) to us.

Leafs Star struck as win streak ends in Texas

Stars forward Ryan Garbutt celebrates a goal by teammate Cody Eakin as Toronto Maple Leafs Jake Gardiner, Jonathan Bernier and Morgan Rielly react on Thursday night in Dallas.
The Leafs' six-game winning streak, their longest winning streak in eight years, came to a crashing halt as they were thoroughly dismantled by the Stars 7-1. Bernier was pulled after giving up three goals on 13 shots. James Reimer didn't fare any better, giving up the final four goals on 15 shots.

No safety blanket necessary for Sochi

Opening ceremony. Wickenheiser embraces chance to lead Canadian athletes into Olympics

Hayley Wickenheiser doesn't put much stock in the flag-bearer's curse.

The hockey star, who will carry the Maple Leaf into the opening ceremonies of the Sochi Olympics, says the idea that she and her teammates could be under any more pressure is absurd.

After all, they play a sport that many in Canada consider religion. So any sort of cosmic jinx pales in comparison to the weight of an entire country's expectations for the women's team to win a fourth straight gold medal in Sochi.

"I think there's just too much emphasis put on that," Wickenheiser said Thursday via conference call from Austria. "The country expects a gold medal. Whether I carry the flag or not, I'm pretty sure our team doesn't feel any extra added incentive that there's more pressure to perform, because we already feel that already."

Not all athletes see it that way. Diver Alexandre Despatie felt it would be a distraction and said he'd decline any offer to carry the flag at the 2012 London Games.

Kayaker Adam van Koeverden carried the flag at the 2008 Beijing Olympics and finished a disappointing eighth in the 1,000 metres — although he did win silver in the 500.

Moguls skier Jean-Luc Brassard blamed his disappointing performance at the 1998 Nagano Olympics on being the flag-bearer a day earlier.

Hockey Canada says the women will march in the Feb. 7 opening ceremonies despite playing their first game the following night versus Switzerland.

Wickenheiser is embracing the opportunity to put her sport centre stage.

"What I think it does is it shines a very positive light on the sport of women's hockey and just on our sport in general for the world to see," said the 35-year-old forward. "That's a great responsibility and expectation that every nation in the world has to carry in and I think should really embrace."

World Cup bid?

Soccer Canada decides if you can't beat 'em, host 'em

Canada plans to bid to host the 2026 World Cup.

"We're the only G8 nation to not host the World Cup," Canadian Soccer Association president Victor Montagliani said on Thursday. "We've hosted almost every other event.... I think it's time for Canada to step up to the plate."

Canada has hosted FIFA youth tournaments and will stage next year's Women's World Cup.

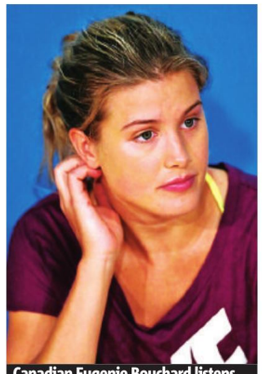
Genie Bouchard's pops proud of prodigy's play at Australian Open

Tennis. 19-year-old expected to move into WTA top 20 as she returns to Montreal for Federation Cup match



Canadian Eugenie Bouchard listens to a reporter's question after losing to Li Na. SHUJI KAJIYAMA/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was an intense week at the Bouchard household as daughter Eugenie worked her way to the Australian Open semifinals.

"We were yelling like idiots," Mike Bouchard, the player's father, said Thursday of his daughter's stirring win over Ana Ivanovic in the quarter-finals, which made her the first Canadian to reach the semifinals of a Grand Slam tournament since Carling Bassett-Seguso in 1984.

It wasn't quite as frenzied at their Westmount, Que., home two nights later, when Bouchard bowed out with a 6-2, 6-4 loss to fourth-seeded Li Na of China in the semis.

"It was also exciting, but in the first set Li Na came out strong and Genie was a little nervous," he said. "I felt for her, but she came back well in the second set. Overall, it was an excellent tournament."

Bouchard stole the show in Melbourne, where a dozen or so local fans formed Genie's Army to cheer her on and toss her stuffed Australian animals after her wins.

Several commentators spoke of Bouchard, the 2012 Wimbledon junior girls champion, being the next big thing in women's tennis and a potential future Grand Slam tournament winner.

Already, her results are expected to move her from 31st into the top 20 in next week's rankings.

And it has stirred ticket sales for her next appearance on home turf. She will play for Canada against Serbia Feb. 8-9 in a Federation Cup tie at the Claude Robillard Centre in Montreal.

Horoscopes

♈ Aries
March 21 - April 20
There is no point being angry about what you have to leave behind. The planets are pointing you in a new direction and urging you to take that first brave step into the unknown.

♉ Taurus
April 21 - May 21
Why are you so excitable? Whatever the reason, you will be on the go from dawn to dusk today. You may need to rest and get your energy back tomorrow but for now you are a ball of energy.

♊ Gemini
May 22 - June 21
You don't have to be especially dynamic today. In fact, if you wait for good things to come your way, they will. Also, your way with words will get what you desire in most situations.

♋ Cancer
June 22 - July 23
Someone will come to you for advice and although you don't want to get involved, you know you can't turn them down. Make sure they know it is only advice. The ultimate responsibility rests with them.

♌ Leo
July 24 - Aug. 23
Honesty is essential if you are to resolve an issue that has been dragging on. That does not only mean you being honest with others, it also means others being honest with you. Encourage them to speak up.

♍ Virgo
Aug. 24 - Sept. 23
You tend to believe in only what you can see and touch. Something will happen today that makes you wonder if there are other forces at work. Can you make them work for you?

♎ Libra
Sept. 24 - Oct. 23
No matter how many brilliant ideas you have, they don't mean a thing unless you do something with them. For too long you've come up with grand plans, now it's time to act.

♏ Scorpio
Oct. 24 - Nov. 22
There is a reason for everything that happens in life — ultimately there is no such thing as luck. Keep that thought in mind today and it will help you keep your feet on the ground.

♐ Sagittarius
Nov. 23 - Dec. 21
Don't take it personally if a friend is overly critical. They are probably more annoyed with themselves than they are with you, but their ego won't let them admit it. They'll make it up to you tomorrow.

♑ Capricorn
Dec. 22 - Jan. 20
You may be desperate to be doing something more exciting but don't get so desperate that you act without thinking. If you do, and make a mistake, it will most likely hit you where it hurts most — in your wallet.

♒ Aquarius
Jan. 21 - Feb. 19
In the eyes of the world, you can do no wrong, so don't worry if you tread on others' toes. Most likely they'll say sorry to you! In every way you are moving faster than everyone.

♓ Pisces
Feb. 20 - March 20
You need to rediscover your passion for a project that started off well but tailed away as other things demanded your time. It doesn't have to be a fantasy that remains unfulfilled. There is still time to make it a success. SALLY BROMPTON
